

The Audio Benefits of Lifesize

Companies seeking a leading, full-service cloud solution for their video collaboration requirements have a very compelling option in the Lifesize cloud-based service. Not only does Lifesize offer a powerful array of features, it is also simple to learn and use — and it is an incredible value.

Perhaps what makes Lifesize the most enticing offering on the market today is that Lifesize provides audio, web and video conferencing in one solution. When users prefer to host an audio conference call, they can go into the same meeting room and use Lifesize. For users, IT, and businesses, this is much easier to learn and manage than two separate solutions. The fact that it can save companies money is also a very attractive bonus.

Single or Group Calls

Each Lifesize user can have their own video and audio bridge number and local phone numbers in more than 60 countries*, which is another significant money saver. When you need to conduct a group call, you have the capacity to host up to 50 sites in one call.

*The list of countries served can be found on the reverse side.

And that's only the beginning ...

Unlike traditional audio conferencing bridges, Lifesize allows participants to join not just from telephones, but also by conference room systems and mobile apps. This provides users with incredible flexibility to join from their device of choice via video or audio.

Participants who join from Lifesize conference room systems and mobile apps will experience HD wideband audio quality, a noticeable and much appreciated improvement from standard telephone quality.

Different from other services where everyone must dial into a bridge, including the meeting owner, with Lifesize the meeting owner can be ringed directly when an audio or video caller joins. Gone are the days when attendees dialed into a bridge and were forced to listen to that nauseating hold music while waiting impatiently for colleagues and others to join. With Lifesize, the moment a call participant dials in and the meeting owner joins the call, a productive conversation begins.

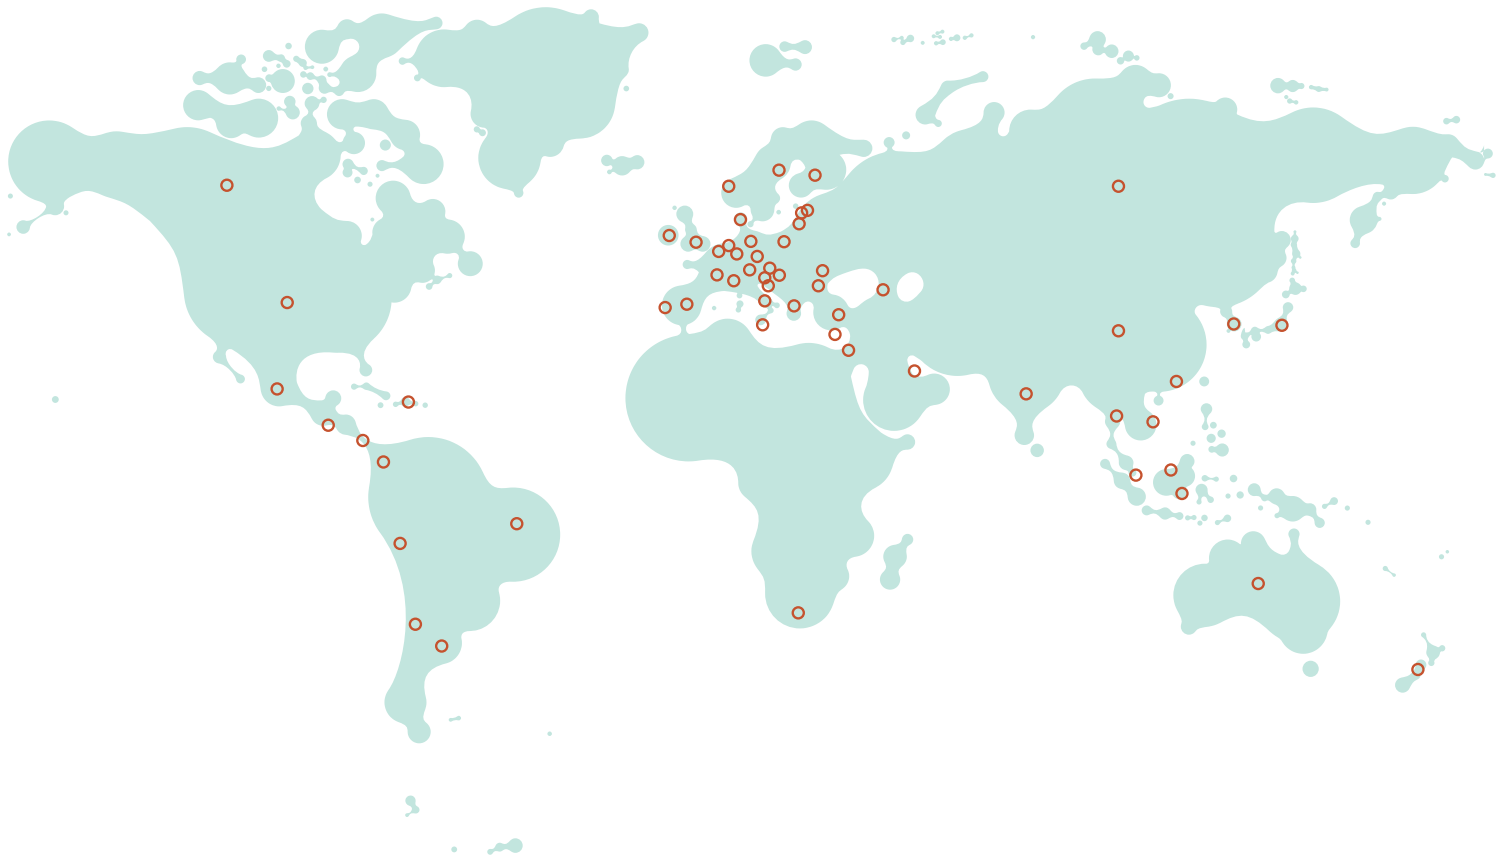

Only Lifesize delivers one solution for simply connecting your conference rooms to everyone who needs to be in the meeting — be it via audio, web or video — from anywhere, on any device.

NOTE: Feature availability and price vary by subscription plan, selected options, and paired devices.
